Wedding in Shropshire

Shropshire is recognised as an incredibly beautiful county, the largest inland county in England, no less.

The county is steeped in a rich and fascinating history, playing its parts in the 'Wars of the Roses' and has been fought over in the North by the Welsh and English. Our county has hosted the English parliament and is rich in heritage left by the Romans, not to mention its association with the modern Olympic Games. Some even believe that the court of Camelot was in Shropshire.

We are pleased to be able to offer a wide choice of attractive venues in beautiful locations for ceremonies. Shropshire is home to some stunning scenery, set on a backcloth of patchwork fields, wooded valleys, picturesque rivers and rolling hills leading into the Welsh mountains.

We are sure that you will find the perfect place to celebrate your special day in Shropshire.

Whatever you envisage, a simple, intimate affair or a splendid gala occasion, we want to ensure that your special day is all that you want it to be. We want your celebration to run smoothly and successfully and leave you with memories to treasure.

We hope this guide will answer all your questions but if you have any others, we will be pleased to answer them. Alternatively please visit www.shropshire.gov.uk or call us on 0345 678 9016.

We look forward to sharing with you the joy and happiness on your special day.

If you can read this but know someone who can't, please contact us on 0345 678 9016 so that we can provide this information in a more suitable format such as large print, Braille or audio, or translate into another language.

Welcome to the Shropshire Registration and Celebratory Services guide to ceremonies in Shropshire.

You will find information about naming ceremonies, getting married or forming a civil partnership and re-registering as well as details on related services and other ceremonies. We will guide you through the legal formalities and provide you with information about venues that are licensed for marriages or civil partnerships in Shropshire.

Naming Ceremonies

Our naming ceremonies are warm and happy occasions, unique to individual families.

A civil naming ceremony provides the perfect opportunity for a child or new born to be welcomed into a family. This ceremony can be used by step-families or for adopted children. The idea is to mark a rite of passage of the parents and the child, to acknowledge a change in responsibilities for new parents, and to give grandparents and other adults or siblings the opportunity to pledge their support to all.

A naming ceremony is not a religious ceremony and like a christening has no legal standing. The naming ceremony can include readings, music, promises by parents, grandparents, sisters and brothers and other adults who will play important roles in the life of the child. It is truly a family occasion.

Shown below is the usual format of a naming ceremony, although this format can be changed to suit:

Opening words

Reading

Naming of the child

Parents promises to the child

Promises of chosen adults

Promises of Grandparents

Signing of the Ceremony record

Presentation of the certificate

Closing words

Some popular readings used at naming ceremonies can be found on page 15 to assist you in making your selections.

Ceremonies can be held at any of the ceremony rooms around the county and in any of the approved venues, it may be possible to hold them in other venues subject to an appropriate risk assessment. This may incur an additional cost.

MARRIAGES and
Civil Partnerships

THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW...

Legal Requirements

In order to be married or form a civil partnership there are a number of legal requirements which must be observed. These requirements will vary dependent on where the marriage or civil partnership is to take place.

It is vital that one of the first decisions which you should make is where the ceremony will take place, as the place of marriage will determine under which piece of legislation the marriage or civil partnership will fit, if any.

Preliminaries for civil marriage and civil partnership are similar, they require the couple to 'give notice' (the civil equivalent of Banns for a Church of England ceremony). Under normal circumstances notice can only be given 12 months before the date of the ceremony. After notice has been given you must wait a minimum of 28 days.

ations

Your Marital Status

If either party have previously been married or in a civil partnership, it is necessary to provide evidence of the marriage or civil partnership ending either by death, divorce, dissolution or decree of nullity.

Death of former spouse – Produce a certified copy of the death certificate

Divorce – Produce a decree absolute bearing the original seal of the court (a coloured stamp)

Decree of Nullity – Produce the document issued by the court bearing its original seal (a coloured stamp)

Dissolution - (Civil Partnerships) - Produce the Dissolution document bearing the original seal of the issuing court (a coloured stamp).

If your divorce or dissolution was granted outside of the UK you will be required to pay a non-refundable statutory fee for the consideration of the validity of the document.

If any of these documents is not in English you will need to provide a translation of the document, the translation should be done by a third party and should include the full name, address and contact details of the translator.

Please ensure that all official stamps are translated also.

Immigration Requirements

Where neither party is subject to immigration control: Each party to the marriage or civil partnership should arrange to give notice to the registration service for the district in which they live.

Where one party or both parties are subject to immigration control: Both parties must attend together at a 'Designated' Register Office (full list available at www.gov.uk.)

When giving notice each party must provide evidence of the following:

Name • Age • Nationality • Address

In most cases a current passport is the documentary evidence required to provide evidence of Name, Age and Nationality. Other documents are acceptable but the list is very prescriptive. Please check registrars web pages on the Council's website www.shropshire.gov.uk for a full list of acceptable documentary evidence.

Residency

You will be asked to provide evidence to show that you have lived at your current address for more than 7 days.

This can be either:

A utility bill (Gas, Electric, Water, Broadband only) dated within the 3 months prior to your appointment

Your most recent Council Tax bill, dated within the 12 months prior to your appointment

A bank statement, dated within a month of your appointment – Please note statements produced via online banking must be stamped with the branch stamp to validate them.

This list is not exhaustive and requirements may change, please check the registrars web pages on the Council's website www.shropshire.gov.uk.

Legal Matte

Important points:

- Make sure you know where your marriage or civil partnership will be taking place before giving notice
- If you are intending for your ceremony or formation to take place in an approved venue, a register office or a council ceremony room outside your district of residence, you will need to have checked the availability of the venue and the registration service who will attend at the ceremony before giving notice
- A fee is charged for the giving of notices and this fee is set by the Government. A complete list of fees and charges for Shropshire Registration Service can be found by visiting www.shropshire.gov.uk
- For a marriage ceremony to be legal, certain words have to be said, however, where the ceremony is taking place at one of our approved venues or council ceremony rooms, but not in a registrar's office, it is possible to include personal vows or even have a bespoke ceremony. For couples interested in this option please contact the Registration Service
- Couples where one or both parties are subject to immigration control have to give notice at a special register office called a 'Designated Register Office'. A full list is available by visiting www.gov.uk. Couples not subject to immigration control should give notice to the registrar for the district in which they live. Most registration offices will require that you make an appointment to give notice. If you reside in the Shropshire Council area you may make an appointment to give notice of marriage by calling 0345 678 9016 or online by visiting www.shropshire.gov.uk
- If either party is under 18 years of age, consent may be required – please contact the Registration Service for clarification
- Notices have to be given in person – No one can give notice on behalf of any other person
- Any inclusion in a ceremony cannot be religious and inclusions are allowed at the discretion of the Superintendent Registrar who is responsible for ensuring that you have a valid marriage or civil partnership.

Fees and other information

There are legally set fees for giving notice of marriage or civil partnership and the consideration for divorce or dissolution documents from outside the UK.

These fees are separate to those for the attendance of Registrars to conduct and register your ceremony. A deposit is needed in order to make a booking, and for ceremonies more than 12 months into the future an additional charge separate to any other applies.

Full details of fees and charges and booking terms and conditions can be found on the registrars web pages at www.shropshire.gov.uk, or are available on application from a member of the registrars team.

Deposits and/or booking fees are not refundable in the event of a cancellation.

Choose a Venue

Booking your venue

We will accept provisional bookings up to 2 years in advance of the intended ceremony. A non refundable booking fee is required to reserve a date for a ceremony more than 12 months and up to 2 years in the future. This fee is completely separate from any other fee which may be required by the Registration Service.

If you are booking a ceremony within 12 months of the date, a non refundable deposit will be required at the time of booking, this fee is deductible from the ceremony fee which the Registration Service will charge.

All couples having ceremonies at an Approved Venue are encouraged to personalise their ceremonies by including readings and music.

A selection of readings and poems are included in this brochure to help you with your choices.

An inclusion in a ceremony cannot be religious and inclusions are at the discretion of the Superintendent Registrar who is responsible for ensuring that you have a valid marriage or civil partnership.

Our full terms and conditions of booking are available on our website www.shropshire.gov.uk

Civil Marriages in Shropshire

In Shropshire, we have a wealth of beautiful venues in which to hold a civil marriage or civil partnership, or indeed any other of our ceremonies, such as a naming or a renewal of vows.

We have everything from castles and stately homes, to council buildings and registrars offices, to hotels large and small, country pubs and everything in between. We are confident that there will be a venue suitable for all tastes and all budgets.

We always remember that every ceremony will be a unique event. You've probably already made plans and have many ideas on how your ceremony will be part of the best day of your life.

We will look after every detail of your ceremony making sure that it becomes a memorable family occasion.

Religious venues

The law is different if you want to hold your civil partnership or marriage in a religious building.

It is not possible for a civil partnership or a marriage of a same sex couple to take place in a church of the Church of England.

Civil partnerships and marriages can take place in churches but these have to be registered or licensed for this purpose. Therefore it should be understood that for a civil partnership or a marriage of a same sex couple to take place in a church of any religious denomination, that church must have opted in to this provision.

When arranging for a marriage or civil partnership in any religious building please speak to the local registration service first. There are a number of legal requirements which have to be satisfied in order for a marriage to take place. In all churches of any faith other than Church of England your legal preliminaries will need to be done with the registration service and the legislation will require that a number of provisions have to be met before the legal preliminaries can be done.

For marriages in the Church of England, some vicars will ask that couples give their notices to a registrar instead of the Banns being read. In 2015 changes in the law require those people who are subject to immigration control wanting to marry in the Church of England to give their notices to the Registration Service and the provision for banns removed.

Don't panic!

We know how excited and nervous you can be on your special day. Do not worry, we will look after you, and tell you what you need to do and say as the ceremony goes along.

There is nothing for you to remember to do on your own. You will never be asked to repeat large numbers of words; we will break down the sections into small bite size pieces and help you all the way through.

The following are examples of ceremony itineraries and wording. Although there are words that are legally required to be said, we can adapt some wording to suit your style.

Ceremony Wording

Music can be played for the entrance of either or both parties to the marriage (If required, subject to the approval of the Superintendent Registrar).

Yes I'll Marry You

(Pam Ayres)

Yes I'll marry you, my dear,
And here's the reason why;
So I can push you out of bed
When the baby starts to cry,
And if we hear a knocking
And it's creepy and it's late
I hand you the torch you see,
And you investigate

Yes I'll marry you, my dear
You may not apprehend it
But when the tumble drier goes
It's you that has to mend it
You have to face the neighbour
Should our Labrador attack him
And if a drunkard fondles me
It's you that has to whack him

Yes, I'll marry you
You're virile and you're lean,
My house is like a pigsty
You can help to keep it clean.
That sexy little dinner
Which you served by candlelight,
As I do chipolatas,
You can cook it every night

It's you who has to work the drill
And put up curtain track,
And when I've PMT it's you
who gets the flak,
I do see great advantages
But none of them for you,
And so before you see the light
I do, I do, I do!

Extract from Les Miserables

(Victor Hugo)

You can never give without loving, but you can never love without giving. The great acts of love are done by those who are habitually performing small acts of kindness.

We pardon to the extent that we love.
Love is knowing that even when you are alone, you will never be lonely again. And great happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved.

Loved for ourselves.
And even love in spite of ourselves.

Apache Blessing

(Anon)

May the sun bring you new energy by day
May the moon softly restore you by night
May the rain wash away your worries
And breeze blow new strength into your being
And all the days of your life may you walk
Gently through the world and know its beauty

I Wish for You One Thing, and That is Love

(William Byrd)

I wish for you one thing, and that is love:
Love for life, and pure, unfettered joy
At being here upon this vivid earth.

May great pleasure come from giving pleasure,
And love that streams out from your burning heart
Light the darkened world and make it bloom.

I wish you to be loved both well and long
By all those whom you love; that these be many,
Among whom, not the least, might be yourself.

May you love the beautiful and good,
And always act with honesty and justice,
Being what you would that others be.

But most of all, I wish for you a love
Into which your love might plunge and drown,
An ocean in which you might live and breathe.

A Mother's Wish

I hope my child looks back on today
And sees a parent who had time to play.
There will be years for cleaning and cooking
But children grow up when you're not looking.
So settle down, cobwebs; dust, go to sleep
I'm cuddling my baby, and babies don't keep.

Desiderata

(Max Ehrmann)

Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible, without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant, they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter, for there will always be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble. It is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs, for the world is full of trickery. But, let this not blind you to what virtue there is. Many persons strive for high ideals and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love, for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment, it is as perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune, but do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.

You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars. You have a right to be here. And, whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore, whatever your labours and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life, keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Give Lavishly! Love Abundantly!

The more you give, the more you get,
The more you laugh, the less you fret,
The more you do unselfishly,
The more you live abundantly...
The more of everything you share
The more you'll always have to spare –
The more you love the more you'll find from day to day that life is good and friends are kind.....
For only what we give away, enriches us.

What is love?

Sooner or later we begin to understand that love is more than verses on valentines and romance in the movies. We begin to know that love is here and now, real and true, the most important thing in our lives. For love is the creator of our favourite memories and the foundation of our fondest dreams. Love is a promise that is always kept, a fortune that can never be spent, a seed that can flourish in even the most unlikely of places. And this radiance that never fades, this mysterious and magical joy, is the greatest treasure of all.

Love is Giving

(Anon)

Love is giving, not taking, mending, not breaking,
trusting, believing
never deceiving, patiently bearing
and faithfully sharing
each joy, every sorrow,
today and tomorrow.

Love is kind, understanding but never demanding.
Love is constant, prevailing,
it's strength never failing.
A promise once spoken
for all time unbroken,
A lifetime together,
Love's time is for ever.

Where there is Love

(Helen Steiner-Rice)

Where there is love
The heart is light,
Where there is love
The day is bright,
Where there is love
There is a song
To help when things
Are going wrong.
Where there is love
There is a smile
To make all things
Seem more worthwhile.

Where there is love
There's quiet peace,
A tranquil place –
Love changes darkness
Into light
And makes the heart
Take 'wingless flight'.
Oh, blest are they
Who walk in love.

Wedding Joys

(after Auden)

Ring all the bells, blow loud the horn,
Allow the children to laugh and shout in the early morn.
Play the flute and beat the drum,
Bring out the couple, let all the celebration come.

Let skylarks soar, spiralling high overhead,
Singing on the wind the message, They Are Wed.
Scatter the confetti, petals fall where they stand,
Toss high the posey to the happy clapping hands.

You are my North, my South, my East and West,
My working week and my Sunday rest.
My noon, my midnight, my talk, my song,
I know love can be forever if deep and strong.

The stars are all wanted now, alight every one.
Uncloak the Moon and raise high the Sun,
Said across the wide oceans, run through the green woods,
Enjoy the celebration, life has proved to be good.

Sonnet 116

(William Shakespeare)

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments, love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove.
O no! It is an ever fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.
Love's not Time fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come,
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom:
If this be error and upon me proved,
I never writ, nor no man ever loved.

Infant Joy

(William Blake)

'I have no name:
I am but two days old.'
What shall I call thee?
'I happy am,
Joy is my name.'
Sweet Joy befall thee!

Pretty Joy!
Sweet Joy, but two days old.
Sweet Joy I call thee.
Thou dost smile, I sing the while,
Sweet Joy befall thee!

The Question

(Karla Kuskin)

People always say to me
"What do you think you'd like to be
When you grow up?"
And, I say "Why,
I think I'd like to be the sky
Or a plane or train or mouse
Or maybe be a haunted house
Or something furry, rough and wild...
Or maybe I will stay a child."

Arrival and Meeting the Registrar

On the day of your marriage it is necessary for you both to be interviewed immediately before your ceremony by the Registrars to check that all of the personal information which will be recorded in your marriage record is correct. This interview can take place with you both together or we will see you separately, you will have indicated your preference when you have returned the ceremony planner information to us beforehand.

It is extremely important that you and your guests arrive in plenty of time for the ceremony. It is very likely that your Registrars will have other ceremonies to attend on the same day as a result of which we are unable to delay the start of your ceremony. If your ceremony start time runs late and the Registrars are legitimately concerned that these delays may result in another couples ceremony running late, they have no option but to leave. To avoid any disappointment please ensure that you have allowed enough time to get ready and arrive at the venue calmly and promptly. The requirements of the Registrars override those of your photographer or videographer.

On The Day

Witnesses

The law requires that you bring along at least two other people to act as witnesses to your ceremony and they will be expected to be seated close to the front, where they can see what is happening during the ceremony and also hear clearly the words being spoken throughout the ceremony. Your witnesses can be friends, relatives or colleagues who are able to understand English and understand what is taking place before them.

Number of Guests

In addition to your witnesses you may wish to invite family and friends to your celebration. Each ceremony room will be licensed for a particular number of guests and you must adhere to these numbers as these will be part of the fire regulations. If you know that you will be having small children at your ceremony you should consider what action you would like taken should a child become restless or upset during the ceremony. Please let your Registrars know of these arrangements so that they know what action if any you expect them or others to take.

Recording the Event

We realise how very important your wedding album or video will be.

The full photography/videography policy features on page 32 and we ask that you ensure that your photographer or videographer is shown this in advance of the ceremony in order that they have an understanding of what is and is not permissible. We will work with your photographer and videographer in order to ensure that they are able to get good images and that these are obtained within the bounds of the policy.

Interpreter

It is vital that you both as a couple fully understand the content of your ceremony and the legal statements which you will be making. Any language barriers will have been noted at the time you completed your legal preliminaries (notices of marriage or civil partnership) and you will have been asked to provide an interpreter if the Registrars felt that there was any possibility that one or both would not understand fully the words spoken in the ceremony. An interpreter can be one of your guests, it is preferable that they are not a relative, one party to the marriage cannot interpret for the other. The person acting as interpreter will be asked to repeat the words which are being spoken in your own language although your responses have to be made in English. An interpreter should provide photographic id and evidence of address to the registration officers and they will also be expected to sign as a witness.

FAQ

What if I make a mistake with my words in the ceremony or start to laugh or cry?

Please do not worry about any of these scenarios. Registrars are well practised, they are not there to make you feel embarrassed or look foolish, in the event that you forget your words, they will remind you, as for laughing or crying, your guests and sometimes your Registrar will probably join in!!

Can we write our own vows?

There are certain words which have to be spoken during your ceremony, but we have no problem with you writing your own additional words, you will however have to submit them for approval by the Superintendent Registrar. Don't forget that you can't have words which are normally used in religious ceremonies or have religious connotations.

What about my signature when I sign the register, do I use my new one?

The answer is a big fat NO. Use your normal signature in the name in which you are marrying or having a civil partnership, there is plenty of time after your ceremony to change your signature for your other business.

Can we have a ceremony in our back garden?

The law requires that a legal marriage or civil partnership has to take place in a building licensed by the local authority for that purpose. In Shropshire our licenses last for 3 years and temporary licenses are not issued. There is nothing to stop you from having your legal ceremony and then having a celebratory ceremony like a renewal of vows at a venue which is not licensed for marriage or civil partnership.

Can I change my name on my passport before the ceremony?

Yes, you can apply to change your name on your passport up to 3 months prior to the date of your ceremony. You will need a form PD2 which you can get from your post office or which you can download from www.gov.uk. Once you have this form please follow the instructions. You will need to submit it to the Superintendent Registrar who will be conducting the ceremony for completion. Please remember that you will need to be certain that your passport has the name on it in which your holiday arrangements have been made, if they are different you may be refused the right to board an aircraft or refused entry into another country.

Can we write our own ceremony?

Yes, providing all of the prescribed elements are included, for help with this please contact the Superintendent Registrar.

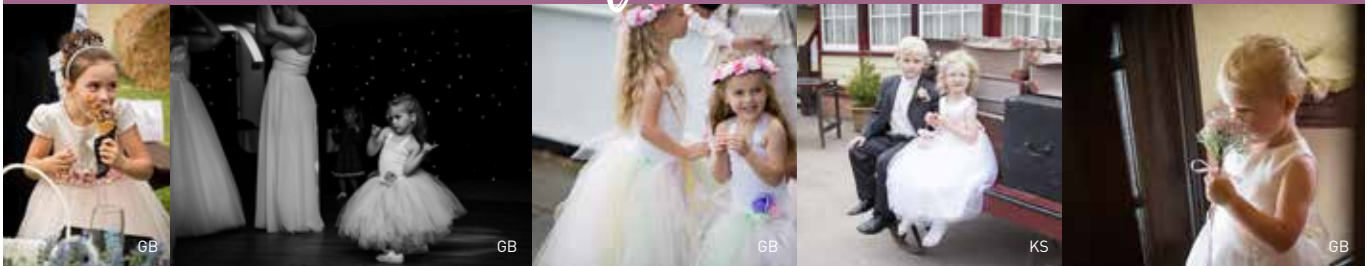

Can our guests sing a song as part of the ceremony?

Yes, no problem as long as it is not a Hymn and it has been approved by the Superintendent Registrar beforehand as being suitable.

Re-Registration

The law requires that a child's birth will have to be registered again when the natural parents enter into a marriage or civil partnership after the birth of their child.

This procedure is known as re-registration.

There are only two ways in which a birth can be re-registered the way described above and where a couple have not been married but no father's details were entered into the original birth registration and subsequently the couple wish to include these.

After marriage the parents of the child need to fill in a form LA1 which is available from your local registrars or by visiting www.gov.uk and downloading a copy.

Once the form has been completed and signed you should take or send it via the post to your local registrar's office including your marriage certificate and the birth certificate of your child.

For more than one child you will need to complete a form for each child. You should then wait to be contacted by your local registration service who will invite one of you in to complete the details for the new birth record.

If the original birth was registered elsewhere in England or Wales you can still give the information to your local registrars who will then pass on the details to the office who hold the original birth entry. Any certificates issued after your child has been re-registered will be issued from the new entry. If you were married abroad this process may vary so before doing anything please make contact with your local register office.

After civil partnership, this process is different, the General Register Office authorises all re-registrations of children born to same sex couples, and you will need to call and speak to them on 0300 123 1837 (option 1) to begin the process.

Renewal of Vows

Why renew your vows?

There are many reasons why couples choose to hold a renewal of vows ceremony, here are just a few:

Those who have married abroad, choose to have a renewal of vows ceremony in order that they can share their experience and joy with their family and friends who were not present at their marriage ceremony.

Couples who are nearing a milestone anniversary choose these ceremonies to renew their vows to each other and celebrate their special day with family and friends.

Couples who have suffered some difficulties and have overcome these choose to renew their commitment to each other and seek to strengthen their bonds either privately or with close family and friends.

Couples who may not have been in a position to have an extravagant day when they had their marriage or civil partnership, choose to do it all again in style.

Family members also arrange these ceremonies as a surprise for their loved ones to mark some special milestone, or if you know someone close to you and you want to help them celebrate a wonderful occasion, there is no better way to celebrate that special anniversary than by having the happy couple renew their treasured marriage vows before having a great party.

These ceremonies follow a similar format to a marriage ceremony and are tailored to meet the individual circumstances of the couple. Couples can choose to include readings and music, exchange new rings or their original ones, include children or other family members. To assist you we have included some readings and poems which have featured in ceremonies on the previous pages in this publication.

A commemorative certificate is signed at the ceremony and there are a range of other commemorative certificates which can be purchased to mark the occasion. It is also possible to purchase confetti in advance from the Registration Service.

Ceremonies can be held at any of ceremony rooms around the County and in any of the approved venues, it may be possible to hold them in other venues subject to additional costs and suitable risk assessment.

A non returnable deposit is taken on booking.
Bookings can be made up to 2 years in advance.

Bookings can be made by calling 0345 678 9016, by email, registrars@shropshire.gov.uk and will shortly be able to be made on the internet, by visiting www.shropshire.gov.uk
